On stage, the action below depends on the equipment above. Your rigging system must safely support electric battens, traveler curtains, changing scenery and more. The quality of your rigging is vital to both your performance and the safety of your people.

We carry curtain tracks and winches designed with theatre and studio use in mind. With more than 20 years of rigging experience, Stage Technology has the know-how to inspect and repair grids, drapery and track systems. We can also design and install complete drape and track systems, as well as studio grids.

Prices are before discount. See back cover for details.
